WHAT IS VEGETARIAN?

 A vegetarian diet DOES NOT include meat, game, poultry, fish, shellfish or by-products of animal slaughter.

Look for this icon next to vegetarian products!

WHAT IS VEGAN?

 A vegan diet not only excludes animal meat, but also dairy, eggs and any other animal-derived ingredients (including honey.)

Look for this icon next to vegan products!

WHAT IS PLANT-BASED?

 Plant-based products are made to mimic foods and their properties. Made using plants (including veggies, grains, nuts, seeds, legumes and other non-animal products.)

Look for this icon next to plant-based products!

WHAT IS GLUTEN-FREE?

 A gluten-free diet is a diet that strictly excludes gluten, which is a mixture of proteins found in wheat, as well as barley, rye, and oats.

Look for this icon next to gluten free products!

WHAT IS KOSHER?

 Kosher refers to a set of intricate biblical laws that detail the types of food that a Jewish person may eat and the ways in which it may be prepared. To be certified Kosher, all ingredients in every product—and the process of preparing the product—must be certified for orthodox kosher-compliance too.

Look for this icon next to kosher products!

WHAT IS ALL NATURAL?

 “Natural” foods, by definition, does not contain artificial ingredients or preservatives and the ingredients are only minimally processed. However, they may contain antibiotics, growth hormones, and other similar chemicals.

Look for this icon next to all natural products!

WHAT IS NO ANTIBIOTICS EVER?

 On meat and poultry labels, the Department of Agriculture requires that a “no antibiotics” claim means that the animals were not given antibiotics in their feed, in their water, or by injection.

Look for this icon next to products without antibiotics!

WHAT IS ORGANIC?

 USDA certified organic foods are grown and processed according to federal guidelines. Organic producers rely on natural substances and physical, mechanical, or biologically based farming methods to the fullest extent possible.
